Why Sponsor MPU 2020

The tri-annual International Conference of the Mediterranean Phytopathological Union (MPU) entitled “Safeguarding Mediterranean Plant Health” will be held this time in Limassol, Cyprus on 23rd to 27th of March, 2020 organized by the Cyprus University of Technology. The meeting promotes dissemination of the latest scientific advances and encourages dialogue and collaboration between researchers and professionals in all aspects of Phytopathology.

The Mediterranean Phytopathological Union reaches more than 5,000 members, thus turning this meeting into a great opportunity for you to introduce your organization and product to a vast number of European and International delegates.

Your sponsorship to the conference will not only get you recognition and visibility, but it will also enable you to network, and potentially collaborate, with many influential scientists in the field. The total sponsorship package offers exposure that can be more directly targeted, more effective, and less costly than traditional advertising.
